A. SUMMARY OF REQUEST
The CDC Foundation seeks a subcontractor to provide graphic design support and expertise, including the creation of graphics and formatting, for a toolkit to assist health departments in expanding and strengthening their work focusing on people experiencing homelessness.

B. BACKGROUND AND NEED
People experiencing homelessness are disproportionately affected by a multitude of infectious diseases, ranging from HIV, tuberculosis, hepatitis A and C, to invasive bacterial disease, such as severe streptococcal disease. Protecting the health of people currently experiencing homelessness, while supporting the end of homelessness, requires multi-agency and multidisciplinary collaboration. To complement and build off existing work, the CDC Foundation has funded a pilot project establishing Centers of Excellence in Public Health and Homelessness, which will benefit from a better understanding of the landscape of health department engagement with services for or surveillance of people experiencing homelessness with infectious disease needs. An output of this project is a toolkit for health departments to expand and strengthen their work focusing on people experiencing homelessness, including data and partnership considerations.

C. SCOPE OF WORK
The graphic designer will collaborate with the CDC Foundation to design and format the toolkit. The final materials must be 508 compliant.

Deliverables/Expectations:
- Develop a timeline for revisions and reviews of toolkit
- Submit two draft of toolkit for review
- Meet regularly with the CDC Foundation to discuss design and execution
